Question 24-26

While scientists doubt that most mythical creatures exist, many people who believe to have seen them insist they are real. One such creature which made headlines in the 1950s is the apelike Yeti. It is said to roam the Himalayan Mountains of Nepal, India, and Tibet. Some of the first people to reach Mt. Everest's summit claimed to have seen the footprints of this large beast. A Yeti supposedly traveled across China and the Bering Strait, and its ancestors lived in the wilds of America.

Thousands of people say they have seen the North American Bigfoot, and many have even taken photos of it. However, to date no one has produced scientific evidence proving its existence. The problem of questionable evidence also exists with the Loch Ness Monster, which people say lives in a lake in Scotland. Whether you are a skeptic or a believer, mythical monsters always make for great tales.

() 24. What creatures are discussed in this article?

- (A) Imagined animals
- (B) Endangered animals
- (C) Ancient animals
- (D) Dangerous animals

() 25. What is the purpose of the second paragraph?

- (A) To discuss why mythical creatures are so popular in tales
- (B) To state the author's personal opinion about the Loch Ness Monster
- (C) To share a personal experience the author had of seeing Bigfoot
- (D) To introduce two examples and what they have in common

- () 26. What most likely describes how the author feels about the existence of these creatures?
- (A) Confident
 - (B) Doubtful
 - (C) Convinced
 - (D) Hopeful

Question 27-29

To:	JaneWagner@agl.com
From:	Jim@starsandscreens.com
Date:	2020/09/10 (Thur.) 11:08 a.m.
Subject:	Great news!
Dear Jane, This is Jim from Stars and Screens. I'm sorry I haven't been able to reach you by phone. I've been dying to tell you the great news! You've been selected to play the lead role in Superhero Queen. That's right! You'll be playing the role of Queen Victoria of England, who gets bitten by a rat with special powers and becomes a superhero. To prepare for the role, we'll need you to gain 10 kilograms, so don't be afraid to eat more sweets and fried foods than usual. We must also ask you to practice speaking with a British accent. This movie is set mostly in England, and partly on the moon. We'll need you to come out to London for about six weeks for filming. Of course, we can't actually go to the moon, so those scenes will use computer animation. Filming will begin in three months. If you have any questions, please write me at the above address. Sincerely, Jim Rollins

- (C) In the summer
- (D) At the end of the year

Question 30-32

Sometimes, inventions come about when people address a need in their daily lives. Other times, someone finds an unexpected use for a new tool. Earle Dickson's invention is an example of the former. His wife needed his help one day to bandage her cut. Realizing that he couldn't always be there to help her, he created a bandage that she could easily apply by herself. Today, his creation is sold under the brand name Band-Aid.

Bubble wrap, on the other hand, is an example of an invention that evolved from its original purpose. Two engineers hoped to make a new kind of wallpaper. They put two shower curtains together, which trapped the air and created bubbles. Seeing the end result, they got the idea of using it as protective packaging. Today, bubble wrap is widely used to ensure that things can get transported without breaking.

() 30. What is the article mainly about?

- (A) The functions of two everyday objects
- (B) A discussion of how inventions got their names
- (C) A comparison between two different inventions
- (D) The origins of two commonly used objects

() 31. What caused Earle Dickson to come up with his invention?

- (A) He sometimes got hurt while working.
- (B) He wasn't always available to help his wife.
- (C) He wanted to help people around the world.
- (D) He saw his wife bandaging her cuts by herself.

() 32. How did the makers of bubble wrap originally plan to use it?

- (A) As gift wrapping
- (B) As wall covering
- (C) As an art supply
- (D) As a shower curtain

Subject:	Disappointed
Dear Noodley Instant Noodles,

I am writing to let you know that I was very disappointed with the Noodley Instant Noodles I bought yesterday.

First, I saw other, cheaper noodles on the shelf, but I decided to give yours a try since I prefer products without MSG and artificial ingredients.

Second, it was very difficult to cover the noodles once I had poured on the hot water, due to the fact that the container had expanded. This is a potentially dangerous situation, as people struggling to cover the noodles could burn themselves.

On the plus side, the flavor of the noodles was not too bad. However, both your packaging and your advertising should be changed.

Yours sincerely,

Liz Mitchell

- () 33. What gives Noodley Instant Noodles their unique rich flavor?
- (A) MSG
 - (B) Salt and pepper
 - (C) Secret sauce
 - (D) Natural spices
- () 34. Why was Liz Mitchell disappointed to see cheaper noodles in the store?
- (A) Because Noodley Instant Noodles claim that they can save you money
 - (B) Because she only expected to see Noodley Instant Noodles
 - (C) Because it made it hard for her to make a choice
 - (D) Because she wanted to buy expensive instant noodles
- () 35. Which step of the instructions didn't work when Liz Mitchell prepared her noodles?
- (A) Step one: removing the lid
 - (B) Step two: adding the secret sauce
 - (C) Step four: replacing the lid
 - (D) Step seven: eating and enjoying the noodles
